

Biography

EYEBROWS OF DEATH - Passionate musicians from Zurich, Switzerland enchant their listeners with the musical style «Alternative Folk-Pop» where classical harp meets a jazzy trumpet, a folky guitar and catchy harmonies.

They sing of unrequited love, key moments in life and the pursuit of happiness. The result is an emotional blend of joy, longing and passion, paired with melodies you won't be able to get out of your head.

First, the musical group around Janosz Prelicz (guitar, vocals, percussion) included Anina Döbeli (vocals, percussion), Noemi von Felten (classical harp) and Moritz Zraggen (e-guitar, trumpet). In late 2016, they decided to form a band and integrated the classical harp into their sound (which resolves into interesting soundscapes on top of the typical folk sound).

They released their first EP successfully in May 2017. Concerts through summer and autumn as well as appearances on radio and TV followed.

Dennis Blassnig (drums) joined the band in early 2018 and David Schaufelberger (bass, backing vocals) was part of the group for half a year in 2018.

A new EP entitled «Moonlight» (recorded and produced by Henrik Amschler) was released on May 11 in Photobastei, Zurich. Again, a tour in summer and autumn followed.

Currently, the band is back in the studio experimenting on new music for another EP.
